

Winners of the egg roll contest

Residents at McPeak's Assisted Living celebrated the Easter holiday by rolling eggs down the hallway and decorating hard-boiled ones, which took place in the establishment's dining area. Residents competed in the egg roll to win Easter baskets for throwing the farthest egg. Each basket included goodies, such as chocolates, and essential items, like moisturizer and deodorant. After that, each resident was given hard-boiled eggs with egg-coloring kits to decorate the eggs to their liking. In the photo, residents William Judson (far left), Joseph Gold (second from right) and Bettie Smith (far right) were awarded Easter baskets for throwing the farthest eggs, by McPeak's recreation director Linda Ohlsen (second from left) at McPeak's Assisted Living's annual egg roll contest.
